Oklahoma has yet to raise the minimum wage - and this matters

Oklahoma's minimum wage is still $7.25.

Since 2014, Oklahoma has prohibited towns and municipalities from raising their own minimum wage.

Despite being a low-cost state, the living wage for a single adult in OK is $15.75. This increases to $30.94 for an adult with one child.

Who are Oklahoma's minimum-wage earners?

- One-third of Oklahoma's workforce are minimum- and near-minimum wage earners.
- 63% of minimum wage jobs are held by women.
- A Black worker is 50% more likely, and a Hispanic worker 40% more likely, to make minimum wage or less than a white worker in Oklahoma.

The majority of minimum wage earners in OK are 25+

State Policy Solutions

- Raise the minimum wage
 - or at the least get rid of existing preemption laws that prevent cities and municipalities exerting local control
- Provide more working Oklahoma families with more tax relief in order to get them more of their hard-earned income back.
 - Strengthen and expand the Sales Tax Relief Credit
 - Expand the Earned Income Tax Credit and tie it back to the federal credit, so that it can automatically be adjusted for inflation

A group of diverse young people are seated in a room, viewed from behind. They are looking towards a presentation screen at the front of the room. The room has a modern, open-plan feel with large windows and a green accent wall. The people are dressed in casual clothing, and the overall atmosphere is one of a community gathering or educational event.

State Policy Solutions

- Invest in affordable and reliable public transportation to connect families that are overburdened and underserved to jobs and essential services like grocery stores and medical care.
- Use data to inform where government should locate resources such as libraries, job training programs, and other services that can help mitigate any harmful impacts of living in a high-poverty neighborhood.
- Expand access to evidence-based parenting classes and home visiting services that can help prevent maltreatment

Oklahoma youth suicide rate has increased 103% since 2007, compared to a 42% increase nationally.

Oklahoma is ranked 10th highest in the nation for youth suicide death rates.

In the past five years in Oklahoma, the number of youth attempted and completed suicides equal 38 Division I college football teams.

State Policy Solutions

- Protect Medicaid expansion for adults and make it easier for all eligible Oklahomans to enroll and stay enrolled
- Continue expanding pregnancy and postpartum coverage
- Provide 12 months of continuous health insurance for children covered under Medicaid
- Expand access to paid family medical leave

Policy Solutions

- Permanently raise the reimbursement rate for child care providers accepting OKDHS subsidy- currently at 60.3% of the true cost of care.
- Continue to decrease out-of-pocket costs for low-income families accessing child care.
- Move from attendance-based to enrollment-based subsidy reimbursement for child care providers.

State Policy Solutions

- Continue fully funding public education in Oklahoma.
- Continue fully funding all core services in Oklahoma so that all families and children can thrive inside and outside the classroom.
- Investing directly in our teachers by raising pay to the national average and indexing it to inflation
- Provide adequate mental health services and school counselors for our children.

Child well-being is complex and depends on the success of the whole family and multiple government systems.

But by investing in families, we're developing happy, healthy, productive adults who grow into loving parents, setting our state and families up for generations of success.
